

AFFLICTED BY DESIGN

I BELIEVE IN HALLOWEEN

On November 4, 2014 Afflicted By Design released the "I Believe In Halloween" single. The new Afflicted By Design single, "I Believe In Halloween," is only available digitally at iTunes, Spotify, Google Play, AmazonMP3, Rdio & Deezer.

Originally intended as a Halloween release, the song got held up in licensing red tape. However, like "Everyday Is Halloween" by Ministry, this isn't a seasonal Halloween song. It's an anthem for people that celebrate the night, that are out of the ordinary, that are a little bit left of center, that worship the dark. For those of us that everyday is Halloween.

"I Believe In Halloween" is a cover of the song by The Voluptuous Horror of Karen Black; an amazing Goth-Punk band from NYC, whose songs and performances have influenced and inspired Sebastian. After you've listened to the Afflicted By Design version, take the time to check out the original. TVHOKB is pretty badass!
